Tighter security abroad

Israel is taking further steps to tighten already stringent security precautions at its embassies and missions abroad following the Bangkok incident. It is also urging foreign governments to follow Thailand's example in dealing with any similar Arab terrorist attacks.

This was stated by Foreign Minister Abba Eban, speaking over the weekend on Israel Radio and TV. Mr. Eban said that although Israel was in no way absolving foreign governments of their obligation to protect Israeli lives and property in their countries, the Government was reappraising existing security measures at Israeli embassies, airline offices, firms and other institutions throughout the world.

The Foreign Minister said that Aluf (Res.) Abaron Yariv, the Prime Minister's special adviser and former Chief of Army Intelligence, who had arrived in Bangkok after the day received Mr. Alexander Peli, hostages had already been freed, was director of the Massada publishing conducting an on-the-spot investiga-company, who presented Mr. Sha-tion to discover how the four terror-zar with the 23rd and 24th vo-ists managed to get into the embassy

Orange soil found on moon mostly glass

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP). -An intriguing orange soil discover-ed on the moon by the Apollo 17 Astronauts is actually a deposit of powder-like glass that may or may not have been formed by volcanic action, space agency scientists said Friday.

It's a silky type of material, the finest yet seen from the moon," said Dr. William Phinney, a Manned Spacecraft Center scientist. "It's greater than 90 per cent glass."

Phinney said the material is largely droplets, spheres and fragments of spheres - all composed of glass which is a brownish to burnt-orange in colour.

Dr. Paul Gast, chief of Planetary and Earth Sciences, said the orange soil was not formed as a result of a "hydrous alteration" or some volcanic action involving water.

This, however, he said, does not eliminate the possibility of lunar MIAMI. volcanic action, although it now ters and

Big drop in rates for land Registry

Big reductions in Tabu - the land registration fee paid whenever a dwelling changes hands — were announced on Friday by Justice Minister Ya'acov Shimshon Shapiro. The new scale, which takes effect tomorrow, means that persons buying a H.100,000 flat will have to pay only II.1,400 instead of the previous II.4,500. On flats costing less than IL55,000, the fee will be a flat IL50. The aim of the new regulations, which were first proposed in September just for young couples and large families, is to reduce the fee on lower-priced apartments. The scale, approved earlier by the Knesset Finance Committee, is as folterm as Finance Minister, Mr. Sapir said, "I like people to believe me, but everyone is free to thing what-ever he likes."

The fee on the first IL55,000 of the cost is IL50. On the part of the cost between IL55,000 and IL100,000, the fee is 3 per cent.

On the part over IL100,000, the fee will be 41/2 per cent. In the case of new spartments costing no more than IL175,000, the fee will be determined either LOD AIRPORT. — An additional by the above scale or by taking flight per week between the U.S. 50 per cent of the previous Taku and Israel will be permitted to stop fee - whichever is smaller.

The first State medal ever to be struck in platinum will be issued as part of Israel's 25th anniversary celebrations next year. . The 35mm, medal, which will go on sale next April, well weigh one ounce and cost $350. The face will bear the official anniversary emblem, and the reverse, a depiction of the 12 zodiscal signs found on a peried in the 6th-contury C.E. syns gogue discovered in Bet Alfa. Five thousand of the platinum medal will be distributed in the U.S. where there is a large concentration of collectors of Israel coins and medala. Another 2,000 will be sold in Israel, for IL1,470 each. The choice of platinum rather than gold as body material for the medal is a courtesy to American collectors. U.S. law forbids the sale of gold coins or medals minted after 1933, within the Continental U.S. For less affluent collectors, the medal will also be minted in bronze (IL15 each) and silver (IL42 each). These prices are subject to change

Warning: Can't buy farm land near Ashkelon

The Israel Lands Authority last week warned investors against offers of agricultural land around Ashkelon as supposed future building sites.

A false rumour is being put about parties had agreed verbally to sign . Justice Sussman then went on to 1972. that Authority land zoned for citrus groves is to be reclassified, the Authority spokesman said. Not only is there no truth in this rumour, he said, but in addition the persons holding the land do so only on lease from the Authority, which they have no right to transfer.

The Authority will prosecute anyone who illegally estempts to transfer his lease, the spokesmen said. He added that anyone who thinks he can buy rights to the land from a lesseholder was throwing his money away.

However, the remedy of specific performance had existed, and been applied, in Israel only by virtue of the importation of this English doctrine through the channel of Article 46 of the Order in Council. This meant, therefore, that, after January, 1970, and until March, 1971, when the Contract (Remedies for Breach of Contract) Law reintroduced the remedy of specific performance into Israel Law, no such remedy had been available, the concept of equitable rights in property upon which it might have been based, having also been abrogated by the Land Law.

BOUQUET FOR THAILAND

THE smooth unravelling of the terrorist knot in Bangkok is evidence, first of ell, that it is bossible. evidence, first of all that it is possible to prevent tarrorist murder without violence, at least abroad. The circumstances of the Bangkok attempt to free terrorists held in Israel include several unusual elements which will not necessarily recur during possible future attacks, but they have demonstrated one essential point. If the government of the country in which the attack is made conveys the fact that it is genuinely and urgently determined that the terrorists shall not succeed, then the knowledge that they cannot escape is likely to influence the decisions of the terrorists.

The most revealing remark in the whole strenge series of events in Bangkok came from Egyptian Ambassador Mushafa el-Essawy, who said: "They (the terrorists) decided that Thai friendship with the Arabs was worth more than six Israeli hostages."

Had Chancellor Brandt and the members of the Bavarian government been able to get across to the Munich murderers the idea that German friendship with the Arabs would suffer gravely if the Israell athletes were harmed then things might have developed differently. Instead, it was allowed to become plain to the terrorists that the German officials were far more afraid that Arab friendship for Germany would suffer if there was any intervention, and as a result the terrorists may have felt sure that no action would be taken against them.

It is true, as Foreign Minister

It is true, as Foreign Minister Eban observed yesterday, that the U.N. has served us particularly ill by deliberately refusing to deal with the terrorist issue, and pushing it away into an obscure committee. Neither the Arab states nor the Communist bloc countries might have joined any collective anti-terrorist formula: but then terrorist acts in the Bangkok or Munich style are unlikely in either group. Four countries in Europe have demonstrated that they are willing to surrender shamefully to pressure and blackmail to avoid conflict with the terrorists; even at the present time Britain appears to be looking for an excuse to release the terrorist whom they accidentally caught getting on a plane at Heathrow airport with a suitcase full of explosives, although every such release enables the terrorist organisations to promise their recruits that even if they should be caught by any mischance, they will not be held long.

Thalland wanted no ill omen on the day their Crown Prince was formally installed as heir to the Throne, and that may have been our good fortune. The Egyptian Ambassador in Bangkok — whether on his own or on instructions from Cairo is not yet clear — did his best to persuade the terrorists to take their chance of escape. If it had been entirely the ambassador's initiative, without authority from Cairo, the two high-ranking Thai officials who joined the terrorists in their flight to Cairo would scarcely have been so very warmly received when they arrived there, so it may be that Cairo has accepted the hint, said to have been put out by Moscow, to the effect that Egyptian callousness over the Munich disaster cost Egypt a good deal of diplomatic support throughout Europe. If that is so, the terrorists have one base fewer. It is perhaps time that Europe should take a leaf out of Thailand's book and gather up enough courage to understand that it is possible to deal effectively with terrorists and even earn Arab friendship in consequence.

Released at airport as terrorists board Cairo-bound plane

BANGKOK (AP). — Four Arab terrorists freed six Israeli hostages at Bangkok airport this morning, handed their weapons to a Thai officer and boarded a special Thai International direct flight for Cairo.

By 2 a.m. Israel time the hostages had met with Ambassador Rehavam Amir and he was able to report to the Cabinet in Tel Aviv that they were all alive and well. The Prime Minister's office said they were released at 1.30 a.m. (6.30 a.m. in Bangkok).

The terrorists took two top Thai officials on the plane — Deputy Foreign Minister Chatichai Chunha-wan and Chief of Staff Air Marshal Dawee Chulasapaya - and Egyptian Ambassador Mustafa el-Essawy. There were six other Thais on the plane --- presumably including members of the aircraft's crew.

Prime Minister Golda Meir and Foreign Minister Abba Eban spoke to the freed hostages at about 2 a.m., and Mr. Eban asked Ambassador Amir to express Israel's appreciation and gratitude to the Thai authorities for their handling of the situation.

The four Arab terrorists accompanied by the six Israeli hostages bound with ropes boarded a bus outside the Israeli Embassy and left for Bangkok airport under heavy police guard at 1 a.m. Israel time.

About 100 newsmen were kept about 50 yards back from the embassy gates as the bus sped away in a police convoy.

Thai embassy sources said the U.S. embassy in Cairo had guaranteed the safety of the plane, but did not explain.

In a final touch of bravado at the airport, the four Arabs said one machinegun was a gift to Prime Minister Field Marshal Thanom Kittikachorn, another was for Gen. Praphas Charusathien, the army Com-mander-in-Chief, and their Palestinian flag was for King Bhumipol who reportedly guaranteed their
